

What we do for ourselves dies with us, what we do for others and for the world remains and is immortal- Albert Pike